Online Tracking Opt-Out Guide

Like many companies, we use services provided by Google, Facebook and other companies that use tracking technology. These services rely on tracking technologies – such as cookies and web beacons – to collect directly from your device, information about your browsing activities, your interactions with websites, and the device you are using to connect to the Internet. There are a number of ways to opt out of having your online activity and device data collected through these services, which we summarize below:

- Blocking Cookies In Your Browser. Most browsers let you remove or reject cookies, including cookies used for interest-based advertising. To do this, follow the instructions in your browser settings. Many browsers accept cookies by default until you change your settings. For more information about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set on your device and how to manage and delete them, visit www.allaboutcookies.org.
- Blocking Advertising ID Use In Your Mobile Settings. Your mobile device settings may provide functionality to limit use of the advertising ID associated with your mobile device for interest-based advertising purposes.
- Using Privacy Plug-ins Or Browsers. You can block our websites from setting cookies used for interest-based ads by using a browser with privacy features, like Brave, or installing browser plugins like Privacy Badger, Ghostery or uBlock Origin, and configuring them to block third-party cookies/trackers.
- Platform Opt-Outs. The following advertising partners offer opt-out features that let you opt-out of use of your information for interest-based advertising:
 - Google: <https://adssettings.google.com>
 - Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/about/ads>
 - Twitter: <https://twitter.com/personalization>
- Advertising Industry Opt-Out Tools. You can also use these opt-out options to limit use of your information for interest-based advertising by participating companies:
 - Digital Advertising Alliance: <http://optout.aboutads.info>
 - Network Advertising Initiative: <http://optout.networkadvertising.org/?c=1>

Note that because these opt-out mechanisms are specific to the device or browser on which they are exercised, you will need to opt out on every browser and device that you use.

Biometric Data

We may collect Biometric Data during the onboarding or account reactivation process. Specifically, we collect, via our third-party service provider of identity verification services, Jumio, Biometric Data from you when you create an account with us and submit photographs and/or videos of your face. These identifiers include facial recognition data, as well as mathematical representations of your facial geometry. We use and share Biometric Data only as described in this section.

We use Biometric Data to identify and authenticate you, for security purposes. We may share Biometric Data with third-party service providers who assist with our IT, security, and fraud programs, our professional advisors, in a business transfer such as a merger or acquisition, and as required by law or regulation. We do not sell your Biometric Data.

Retention of Biometric Data

BAM will retain biometric data until the earliest of the following events occurs:

- the identity verification purposes for the collection have been satisfied; or
- three years from the time at which you delete or deactivate your BAM account.

Unless required by a valid warrant or subpoena to maintain any specific biometric data for longer than the above retention schedule, we will securely delete biometric data according to this schedule, rendering it no longer available for inspection or access.

Notice To California Residents

We are required by the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (“CCPA”) to provide this CCPA notice (“CCPA Notice”) to California residents to explain how we collect, use, and share their personal information, and the rights and choices we offer California residents regarding our handling of their personal information.

- CCPA Scope And Exclusions. This CCPA Notice, including the description of our Privacy Practices and your Privacy Rights, apply only to California residents whose interactions with us are limited to:
 - visiting our consumer websites or otherwise communicating with us;
 - signing up for email alerts;
 - requesting or purchasing merchandise from us; or
 - applying for our job openings on our websites (however, note that the CCPA limits some of the privacy rights for job applicants).

This CCPA Notice does not apply to the personal information we collect, use, or disclose about:

- consumers who initiate or complete the process of applying for financial products or services. This is because this information is subject to the federal Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act and implementing regulations, or the California Financial Information Privacy Act (for additional information relating to your choices about this information specifically, see our Consumer Privacy Disclosure); or
 - representatives of businesses that seek to obtain our products or services, or to provide products or services to us.
- Privacy Practices. Like many companies, we may use third-party cookies for our advertising purposes. If you would like to learn how you may opt out of our (and our third party advertising partners’) use of cookies and other tracking technologies, please review the instructions provided in the Online Tracking Opt-Out Guide.
 - Privacy Rights. The CCPA grants individuals the following rights:

- Information. You can request information about how we have collected, used and shared your personal information during the past 12 months. We collect this information for the business and commercial purposes described in the How We Use Information section above. We share this information with the categories of third parties described in the How We Share And Disclose Information section above.
- Access. You can request a copy of the personal information that we maintain about you.
- Deletion. You can ask us to delete the personal information that we collected or maintain about you.

Please note that the CCPA limits these rights by, for example, prohibiting us from providing certain sensitive information in response to an access request and limiting the circumstances in which we must comply with a deletion request.

- How To Submit A Request. If you would like to submit a request for information, access, or deletion, please contact privacy@binance.us.
- Identity Verification. The CCPA requires us to verify the identity of the individual submitting a request to access or delete personal information before providing a substantive response to the request. You may only make a verifiable request for access twice within a 12-month period. We will ask you to verify your identity when you submit a request. We cannot respond to your request or provide you with personal information if we cannot verify your identity or authority to make the request and confirm the personal information relates to you. Making a verifiable request does not require you to create an account with us.
- Authorized Agents. California residents can empower an “authorized agent” to submit requests on their behalf. We will require the authorized agent to have a written authorization confirming that authority.

Although we do not sell personal information, like most websites, we use cookies and other online tracking technologies on our websites. You may limit our use of online tracking technologies as described in the Online Tracking Opt-Out Guide section above.
